Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Applicant's preliminary amendments and remarks filed November 21, 2003 have been acknowledged by the examiner and entered. Claims 1-10 are pending in this application for consideration.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. § 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(c) he has abandoned the invention.

(d) the invention was first patented or caused to be patented, or was the subject of an inventor's certificate, by the applicant or his legal representatives or assigns in a foreign country prior to the date of the application for patent in this country on an application for patent or inventor's certificate filed more than twelve months before the filing of the application in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

(f) he did not himself invent the subject matter sought to be patented.

(g) before the applicant's invention thereof the invention was made in this country by another who had not abandoned, suppressed, or concealed it. In determining priority of invention there shall be considered not only the respective dates of conception and reduction to practice of the invention, but also the reasonable diligence of one who was first to conceive and last to reduce to practice, from a time prior to conception by the other.

Claims 1-2, 6, 7, 9 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Szyborski et al.

Szyborski et al (4,328,290) disclose a battery vent plug. Wherein the plug comprising a plug element incorporate an inner cartridge and a valve element. The plug element is provided with a mounting portion 13 which is fitted into an opening 14 in the battery cover. The plug is a cup shaped with a radially inwardly opening annular recess 20 for receiving an outturned annular flange 21 at the inner end of the plug. The plug has gas port 28 between the inner cavity and an outside. An interior cavity having cylindrical walls 25. The inner cartridge defines a transverse wall 22 outwardly of the flange portion 21 and has a central through opening 23 (a gas passage) in direct communication with the cell interior and defines an inlet to the vent chamber 16 (inner cavity). An outer circularly cylindrical surface 24 which is secured to a complementary inner cylindrical surface 25 of mounting portion 13 of body 15 as by suitable adhesive 26.

A valve element 35 is preselected so as to cause the valve body to be compressed between top wall 27 of the housing body 15 (the cup shaped plug) and an annular upstanding seat 37 on the traverse wall 22 of plug cap. The outer end of valve body 35 defines a planar surface 38 in facial engagement with top wall 27 and the inner end of the valve body 35 defines a planar surface 39 parallel to surface 38 and defining the sealing portion of the valve body engaging the seat 37. (see col. 3, line 21 through col. 4, line 21).

With regard to claim 2 for the installation fitting is ring-shaped. Szyborski et al disclose flange portion 21 and protrudes from the cavity and which is cylindrical shaped. Therefore, it read on the ring-shaped.

With respect to the plug system provided with a backstop for inner cartridge and a counter-support. Szyborski et al has a backstop between surfaces 19 and 21 and counter-support surface 38.

With regard to the plug being injection-molded components. Szyborski et al disclose that the components of the valve plug may be formed of a suitable molded synthetic resin (see col. 4, lines 51-54).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3-5 and 8 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Reasons For Allowable Subject Matter

The following is an Examiner's statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

None of the prior art discloses or suggests that the installation fitting consists of two concentrically positioned annular elements or the valve configuration includes a pressure-responsive, movable valve lip.
